Professor Nasir El Bassam from Vechelde is a globally sought-after specialist in the field of renewable energies - and appeals as a Muslim for a coexistence of religions.

Born in Basra, Iraq, and living over 60 years in Germany, Prof. Dr. El Bassam is an expert on renewable energies and poverty reduction globally: He is the epitome of cosmopolitanism - and also promotes tolerance especially among religions. The terrorist attacks of the "Islamic State" (IS) dominate the media. "More than 99 percent of the victims of this Islamic ...
